Why is the Manufacturing Industry in Vietnam so Strong?

The manufacturing industry in Vietnam continues to grow and strengthen for many reasons but mainly due to the abundance of highly skilled workers. The Vietnamese are skilled at hand assembly work and the quality of hand assembly work is very competitive.

Why Vietnam's Economic Future is Bright and Growing?

Population of Vietnam

For now, cheap labor remains a major competitive edge to pull in investment. In a recent survey among U.S. companies, Vietnam has become the first market they are looking to expand in across ASEAN, due to many advantages like low labor costs, good personal security and a stable government and political system.

Policy of Vietnam

Proactively and actively engage in international economic integration following a roadmap in conformity with the national development strategy till 2010 and the 2020 vision. Make proper preparations for the signing of bilateral and multilateral free trade agreements. Promote comprehensive and efficient cooperation with ASEAN and Asia-Pacific countries.

FDI of Vietnam

As of March 20th, 2022, the total newly registered capital, additional capital, contributed capital and the right to buy shares of foreign investors over USD 8.9 billion, equivalent to 87.9% over the same period last year. The capital generated by FDI projects was estimated at USD 4.42 billion, an increase of 7.8% over the same period in 2021.
